4. Driving to Royal Randwick Racecourse

4.1 From South or South-West

Go along Southern Cross Drive in the direction towards the City. The centre two lanes will go underground into the Eastern Distributor - stay clear of these lanes. Shortly after the Eastern Distributor, turn right at Dacey Avenue (just past the Supa-Centa on your right). At the intersection with Anzac Parade continue straight (with a slight right bend) to Alison Road. Turn right into Randwick Racecourse (150 metres after Doncaster Avenue).

4.2 From the North

If you are driving through the Harbour Tunnel continue onto the Eastern Distributor.

If you are driving across the Harbour Bridge, say Happy 75th Birthday, and get onto the Cahill Expressway and then the Eastern Distributor.

4.3 From Parramatta Road

4.4 From the North West

From Anzac Bridge continue to the Cross-City Tunnel (which is a toll road with no cash booth). In the tunnel take the very first left turn (it will have directions to the airport). You will continue as the road loops leftwards and eventually joins the Eastern Distributor. It is too dangerous and probably illegal to get in the left lane of the Eastern Distributor so continue onwards. You will take the next left exit which will be more than 2 km further on. You will turn left at Dacey Avenue (you will see the Supa-Centa at this intersection). At the intersection with Anzac Parade continue straight (with a slight right bend) to Alison Road. Turn right into Randwick Racecourse (150 metres after Doncaster Avenue).
